2002 MSBL / MABL WORLD SERIES SOARS TO RECORD NUMBERS!

By Tom Prendergast

The 15th Annual 2002 MSBL / MABL World Series tournament opened on Sunday October 13th with 28 MSBL teams in week # 1. This week the MSBL WS will host the largest number of teams in a single week ever, at 149. Altogether this year 329 teams will participate in the largest amateur World Series tournament ever held. Today starts the third and final week of the 2002 WS tournament. Thirty-eight plus, forty-eight plus and fifty-eight plus divisions will participate in 447 pool play games this week. Saturday's rain forced the postponement of the Father & Son American semi final games, which were re-scheduled for Sunday. After the F/S National championship game (won by Minnesota Crosstown Traffic) rains wiped out any chance to play the F/S American championship game and so the DC Nationals and the Terre Haute Volkers were declared co-champions. The World Series Trade Show concluded on Sunday night.

So What Do We Do If This Happens? Always Call The Office
By Tom Prendergast

Problem: You team shows up for a game and you don't see any umpires at least 15 minutes prior to the start of the game?

Solution: Call the WS office hotline, 602-438-0242. We have a standby ump on call and will send him out to your game.

Problem: You want to lodge an official protest and you're not sure how to do that.

Solution: Immediately inform the home plate umpire of the protest and he will call the WS office and get an official ruling.

Problem: You determine that the other team has a player that is batting out of turn. You decide to protest this infraction (after the game ends) and hope that the out come of the game will be reversed.

Solution: Any player caught batting out of turn before the next pitch is thrown will be ruled upon by the umpires on the field. If discovered after the next pitch or play, his turn at bat becomes legal.

Problem: The standings reflect a different number of runs allowed than your team has actually had scored against them. How do you correct it?

Solution: Call the WS office and go over your game scores, game by game.

Problem: Your team is not sure if you've made the playoffs and the players will be out on the town that night and won't get in til late.

Solution: Make sure the WS staff can reach you or someone by 9:00pm.

Once again this year Scorebook.com
is happy to participate in the 2002
MSBL / MABL World Series. Last year players from all teams were amazed to see their individual and team
stats on the World Series and Score-book.com web site so quickly. About 80% of the teams took part in the process last year and we are hoping for about 95% of the teams this time around. If you forgot to bring your laptop, Scorebook.com will have two loaners available in their office located at Tempe Diablo Stadium. There's no cost to use these laptops but they must stay in the office and may not be checked out, sorry. Any questions call
