NEW MSBL NATIONAL TOURNEY SET FOR SPRING 2003 IN ARIZONA 3/20 - 23

MSBL National Adds New Spring Training Tournament To Schedule By Joel Becker

Beginning in 2003, the MSBL will host a second national tournament in Arizona during Spring Training. The tournament will be held the weekend of March 20-23 in Chandler and Mesa.

World Series Tournament Director Tom Prendergast will serve as the tournament director. And since the tournament will be held during MLB Spring Training, every player will receive a ticket to a Major League Spring Training Game.

Three age divisions will be included in next year's inaugural event (28+ / 38+ / 48+) and every team will be guaranteed at least three games. The tournament has room for 24 teams - 8 per age division. Baseballs, umpires, and field rental is included in the $1400 team registration fee. A $100 deposit is required to reserve a spot.

WS Adds Two Extra Playoff Spots In 58+ American Div

Out Of Division Games No Problem For Some American Teams On Day One! By Tom Prendergast

To accommodate the lack of teams in a few divisions, it was necessary to schedule some out of division games between National and American opponents. Needless to say, this caused some initial concern for some teams who felt that they might be at a disadvantage. So to help ease some of their concerns the World Series office (after consulting with some American division managers) decided to add two extra playoff spots. This decision was made early Monday morning before any of the results were called in to the office.

This course of action might have been a bit premature given that out of six 48+ National/American games played on Monday, the American teams won four. In the very competitive 58+ National / American division, three of the seven games were also won by American teams. Tougher tests lie ahead for the American teams as the depth of their pitching staff comes into question as the week goes on.

Mommas Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up to Be Lawyers

By Max Utsler

You old guys playing in the over-48 and over-60 divisions will not need to read this. This is a story about naming your baby. However, if you are over-48 and DO eventually need this advice, I am impressed.

Admit, my fellow aging baseball players. You want your son to grow up to be the next Barry Bonds. Okay scratch that idea. How about you want your son to grow up to be the next A-Rod. I have been conducting some scientific research that past few weeks, and I have uncovered a significant finding. The path to baseball stardom starts with the name.

Through extensive research I have developed "Utsler's Theory of Naming Relativity." To put it in unscientific language, that means your newborn son's odds of making it to the Major Leagues is directly related to the "coolness quotient" of the baby's name. Like any good scientific theory, this one has corollaries.

Corollary #1—Espanol Es Bueno

There is just something about a Hispanic name that just rolls off your tongue. Carlos Beltran, Francisco Rodriguez, Javy Lopez, Fernando Vina, Juan Encarnacion. Those names sound like baseball. Matter of fact, you will be hard pressed to find a Hispanic name that doesn't sound like baseball. However, this corollary does have its limitations. Felipe Utsler does not cut it. Neither does Benito Prendergast. I guess it helps if you actually are Hispanic.

Corollary #2—Drop the Formality

Jeff sounds more baseball than Jeffrey. Likewise Mike wins over Michael, Chuck trumps Charles, Jake works better than Jacob. If possible add a "y." See Wally, Joey, and Richie. Avoid Roman numerals. Do you think Davis Love III could ever take out a second baseman on a double play or hit an 0-2 slider.

Corollary #3—Don't Fall Into the "Boomer Trap"

Corey, Ryan, Shane, Adam, Jeremy, and Tyler are all part of current generation's trend to move away from Bill, John, and Jim. Okay, maybe we did have a few too many of those, but do we have to go this far? I do applaud moms and pops for largely avoiding the male version of the trendy "I" ending as in Misti, Christi, and Cindi. I was originally going to put Jason on this list but the recent accomplishments of Misters Giambi, Schmidt, Simontaachi, and Jennings have given me pause.

Corollary #4—Last Names Matter, Too

I added this corollary while scanning the 2002 Amateur Draft list. I predict Christopher Denorfia will never sport a major league Rockies' uniform. Don't expect Micah Shnurstein to patrol the outfield at Comiskey Park. The White Sox Gabriel Casanova may be successful at some things but baseball won't be among them. Tyler Klippenstein of Oakland will not be the man to bounce Eric Chavez from the third base bag. Lee Gwaltney will never toe the slab for the Phillies.

The Astros' Adam Seuss can not play ball.

Not in the fall.

Not at the mall.

No, not at all.

Not play ball.

Sometimes two good names just don't fit together. Consider the plight of Stoney Stone and Koley Kolberg of the both of the Red Sox. They will have to buy a ticket if they ever want to get into Fenway.

I would like to use this column as part of my resume to begin my consultant's career. I will offer my services to major league baseball teams at draft time to help them determine players with true major league possibilities. Right now they only look at things like foot speed, arm strength, and batting stroke. I will help them evaluate names.

WS Umpire Ken Vanderpoel, who was injured in an auto accident on his way to his first game of the tournament, writes that he's home safe, if not completely sound, in Atlanta. Vanderpoel suffered a broken hand, leg, cracked ribs, bruises, and lacerations in the wreck. He reports he'll be off his feet for a few weeks to recover. Any well-wishing correspondence would be welcome. Meanwhile, here's hoping for a speedy recovery.

By Tom Prendergast

Another first for the WS this weekend, as the MSBL unveils a 65+ Division Exhibition Game for any player whose age allows him to qualify.

Diary of An Aging Ball Player (continued from page 2)

For example, let us consider the 2002 Diamondbacks draft list. I'll list the draft number, the name, position and my assessment.

- 1. Sergio Santos, SS—the next A-Rod with even a better name.
- 3. Jared Doyle, LHP—probably not, see Corollary #3.
- 9. Klent Korley, RHP—made up names never work.
- 10. Nebasset Brown, 2B—see #9
- 15. Dustin Nippert, RHP—Corollary #3 plus an unwieldy last name
- 24. Matt Incinelli, RHP—I forgot to mention. Ethnic Italian names are almost as good as Hispanic ones.
- 25. Bookie Gates, 2B—Can't miss prospect unless he runs afoul of Arizona gambling laws
- 31. Clint Goocher, LHP—Even being left-handed can't save a guy named Goocher.
- 32. T.J. Large, RHP—Initials don't bode well for future stardom.
- 33. Donta Warfield, SS—That name sounds fast.
- 34. Kris Krise, RHP—Alliteration no big help here.
- 47. Robert Ferns, RHP—As if being a 47th round pick wasn't handicap enough.

Save this column for future reference to test the validity of my theory. You will see how right I am.
