MSBL 65+ Exhibition Game Set For Friday November 1st 5:00p Temp Diablo Stadium

Up To the Moment MSBL WS Results Available On Scorebook.com

By Tom Prendergast

Good communication, which has always been a key factor in the long running success of the MSBL / MABL World Series, takes a giant leap forward this year. The creative and ingenious folks at Scorebook.com have come up with a way to get World Series scores out to the players as soon as they are reported.

In the past, when a score was reported, the WS staff would first write it down on paper and then type it into a spreadsheet. Another staff member would copy the data and change the standings based on the new results. The next step would be to update the WS PowerPoint file with the new scores and current standings.

Every couple of hours, a staff member would update the WS PowerPoint file running continuously in the World Series Information office in the novelty room on the mezzanine level at Tempe Diablo Stadium. By the time that information was out, it was already two hours old! That was then, this is now.

This year, as soon as the WS office gets the score it will be entered into the WS Scorebook.com database. Current divisional standings will automatically be calculated based on these new results. In fact, not only will these results be available at Tempe Diablo Stadium, but they will be accessible to anyone online anywhere in the world.

Central Division Rules Require 100% Participation During All Pool Play Games

By Tom Prendergast

The prime directive for teams in the MSBL World Series Central Division is one of complete participation from all players on the roster. This basic and simple concept is one that is apparently causing some confusion and consternation within the managerial ranks. Yesterday, an anonymous Central team won a game by one run but lost (on a protest appeal) because they failed to bat all of their players. Their argument was that if they had been allowed to bat in the bottom of the ninth they would have been in compliance. They also added that if they had been the visiting team they would have gotten their at bats and therefore shouldn't be penalized because they were the home team.

As compelling as that argument was, ultimately it was determined that they had not been in compliance with the rules that require all players must get at least one at bat. Cen-

Naming Your Team More Difficult Than It Looks

A record number of teams have come to Phoenix for the 15th annual Men's Senior Baseball World Series. Out of 330 teams, you would think at least a dozen could come up with clever names.

But when you hear names such as the San Diego Diegans, the Sun Valley Suns, and the British Capital Group Titans, you have to wonder.

We do feature some new entries in the clever category. My personal favorite is the Tacoma Tugs. But then I have always had a warm place in my heart for alliteration. The Nor Cal Antiques still win my award for the best long-term nickname, but the South Dakota Rushmores run a close second.

I also found in this year's pairings some team names that bring out the reporter in me and make me want to ask what is the story behind this name.

- The San Diego Trots (The last time I heard the word "trots" in a sentence it had the words "back-door" in front of it)
- Terre Haute Volkers (With aluminum bats, do they really go up to bat looking for a "volk?")
- Terre Haute Volkers Group (I suppose not to be confused with the Volkers)
- N. Virginia Silver Eagles (What happened to the Kenilworth's and the Mack's?)
- Tulie (Huh?)
- Des Moines Vikings (Some cities and nicknames just don't fit)
- Arizona Oilmen (See above)
- Millenium Properties Pirates (There is only some much you can do with a sponsor name. Even the Tugs would not be a fit).
- LA Dogmellon (I am not sure I want to know).
- Fed Lock Federals (Is this short for Federal lockdown? Put them in the Penitentiary League).
- Tecumseh Green Giants (I doubt if they are either green or giant).
- U. S. Coasters (Huh?)
- Minnesota Crosstown Traffic (There must be story here)

We might also be able to spur new interest in the MSBL World Series plus solve some of the annual problems caused by charges of "sandbagging," playing in a division below your team's skill level. I recommend we place teams in divisions based on their nicknames. Here is how the 2002 series would shake out.

The Anthropology Division would include: the Riverside Aztecs, Colorado Springs Explorers, Salem Renegades, Connecticut Explorers, Arizona Outlaws, and two Tribes (Fresno and Elk Grove). The Chicago Rebels were disqualified for lack of understanding of the Mason-Dixon Line.

The City Zoo Division would include: the Pacific Coast Barracudas, Southern California Snappers, Bay Area Beavers, Arizona Rattlers, Denver Wolverines (manager must be a Michigan man), two Bulls, two Grizzlies and the Chicago Mudsharks. (I didn't know sharks swam in the Chicago River). The Northern Illinois Razorbacks were also disqualified for violation of the Mason-Dixon Line Rule.

The Stranded in a Different Sport Division would include: Chicago Ravens, San Antonio Colts, Elmendorf Eagles, Puget Sound Chiefs, and North Valley Bears in the NFC Central. The Las Vegas Heat, LA Bulls and Arizona Mavericks in the (Chasing Shaq Conference). No NHL Division this year, The Canadians misspelled their name. It's Canadiens!

The Creative Writing Division (Alliteration Conference) includes: previously mentioned Tacoma Tugs and Fedlock Federals plus Tinsel Town Terror, Michigan Maroons, and California Cannons.

The AMS (American Meteorological Society) Division would include: two teams from Long Island, the Tides and the Storm; two more Storms, Inland Pacific and Southern California; the Flagstaff Thunder; and three appropriately named teams from St. Thomas (V.I), the Hurricanes, Tropical Waves, and Tradewinds.

San Francisco has the 49ers. Philadelphia has the 76ers. Las Vegas has the 51's. Oklahoma City used to have the 89ers. All of those made historical sense. So tell me how we can have the Oregon 50's, the Chicago SW Suburban 50's, and the Arizona 50's. Do you really want to call attention to your age? Didn't you buy any of that stuff a few years back? You know, that stuff Rollie Fingers was peddling that made your gray hair look black. And finally, we pay tribute to the Fog City 40's who are playing in the over-48 division. Get your drivers' licenses ready. I feel a protest coming on.

The Sleek New WS Souvenir Program

This year's 2002 MSBL/MABL World Series souvenir program (left) has a new look. Not as bulky as last year's issue, this year's edition includes this year's teams by division, field and map directions, photos of last year's championship teams, and a year-by-year recap of championship scores by division.

The cover includes the 2002 World Series logo, which highlights the 15 year anniversary of the MSBL World Series. In addition to the logo, the cover includes several pictures of players in various action shots through the years.

All of the photos in this year's World Series program were taken by the "official" WS photographers - Chris Denevi and CJ Jones.

Every player attending the WS receives one.

APN Videographer and Play-by-Play artist Jeff Lowery practices his craft, creating a souvenir for some MSBL WS participants.

Chicago Fire manager Bart Zeller flashes signs from the third base coach's position in the Fire's game against the Old Stars.

Indianapolis Old Stars southpaw Wally Brant puts some mustard into this delivery while hurling against the Chicago Fire Tuesday.

Art Hagan, of the 58+ National/American Arizona Oilmen, can't quite check his swing while batting at Tempe Diablo yesterday.

Arizona Oilmen shortstop Gene Ekholm prepares to gun out a batter at first during his game against the St. Thomas Tradewinds.

The top attraction at this past weekend's WS Trade Show was the Wilson exhibit, which allowed participated to take a few swings.
