Anaheim Angels To Train At Tempe Diablo Stadium Through 2007

By Bill Shaikin (LA Times Reporter)

The Angels plan to honor the three years left in their agreement to hold spring training in Tempe, Arizona.

"They told me they're going to be here through 2007", City Manager Will Manely said Thursday. Angel spokesman Tim Mead confirmed the decision.

Owner Arte Moreno has yet to decide whether to move the Angels' spring home to a proposed new $40-million complex in the Phoenix suburb of Goodyear or remain in a renovated facility in Tempe.

Although Tempe would like to retain the Angels — the team set an attendance record last spring — Manely said the state money reserved for major improvements would not be available unless the team signed a 20-year lease extension.

After intensive negotiations with Goodyear officials last fall, the Angels believed they could move into a new complex there as soon as 2005. But talks stalled over the division of revenue and expenses, and Goodyear Mayor Jim Cavanaugh now says a grand opening before 2007 "borders on virtual impossibility."

MABL World Series Wraps Up — MSBL 38+ National, 28+ Federal & Central Begin 18+ Federal Champs — Sacramento Braves, 18+ Central Champs — Long Island Cards
By Tom Prendergast

The MABL World Series came to a close yesterday as three more teams won titles. In the 18+ American Division the North Illinois Cubs defeated the Flor De Cana team 9-7. The Cubs scored nine runs in the top of the first and then held on for the victory. In the very competitive MABL Federal Division the Sacramento Braves beat the Cinderella first year team, the Fairfax Yankees 3-0 in the championship game. The Braves used timely hitting and great pitching to beat the Fairfax Yankees, appearing in their first 18+ MABL World Series. In the 18+ Central Division, the Long Island Cardinals captured their first MABL championship with an impressive 9-2 win over a very good Daytona Beach Yankee team.

Today the second phase of the 2004 MSBL World Series begins as the 38+ National, 28+ Federal and Central teams start their games. Sixty-nine teams open up today, playing six games in four days. On Tuesday the 38+ / 48+ Wood Bat (National and American) teams start play along with the 65+ division. On Thursday, the Father and Son teams begin play. On Thursday the Annual World Series Trade Show will open up at Tempe Diablo Stadium in and around the concourse. Friday night the MSBL World Series will host a Bar-B-Que at the stadium and a home run hitting contest will take place on the field. Saturday all of the championships will take place at the Papago Park Complex. The banquet will be held on Saturday night at the Pointe at South Mountain.

Expect Road Delays On All Major Highways

By Tom Prendergast

Transportation officials are warning drivers to brace for delays on several major road ways in and around the greater metropolitan area this week. The Arizona Department of Transportation has many on-going construction projects which may cause some traffic delays this week.

On days when your team has a double-header (especially if your playing at different locations) teams should allow for additional travel time to and from the fields. If your team does encounter any delays please notify the WS office that your team will be late.
