MABL Teams Win The WS Battle Against The MSBL, 3 Games To 1

Rawlings National And MABL Teams Playing Double Headers Today - 28+ Wood Begins By Tom Prendergast

On any given day it appears that any team in the MSBL/MABL World Series can beat another. Such was the case yesterday as crossover play took place between the 28+ National division and the 18+ American division teams. The 18+ Chicago Gators beat the 28+ National Dallas Mets 5-4, in a very exciting one run game. The 28+ National Oklahoma City Braves defeated the 18+ American So Cal Riptides 10-4. The 18+ American Chicago Seminoles came from behind to beat the undefeated 28+ National Atlanta Astros 8-6 while the 18+ American So Cal Snappers kept the 28+ National Tri Valley Cubs out of the playoffs with a 14-1 drubbing.

In the extremely competitive 28+ Continental Division the Westside Dawgs finished the pool play round with a 6-0 record. The So Cal Brewers (5-1) and Grand Rapids Kesters & Devries (4-2) made the playoffs. In the other division the South Dakota Rushmore's (2-3-1) ended up as the division winner while the Stanislaus Indians (2-4) and the Indianapolis Giants (2-4) qualified for the playoffs.

Today is a busy day for the MABL and Rawlings National teams as all 49 are scheduled for double headers. The 28+ Wood Bat World Series starts today with all eleven teams playing two games each of the next two days. Their playoffs will be held on Saturday, with the championship on Sunday.
