Atlanta Astros And West Side Dawgs Are Champs!

28+ Atlanta Astros defeated the Dallas Mets 7-3 to win the 2005 National Championship game. It's their third 28+ National Championship Title in four years. (2002, 2003, 2005)

Atlanta Wins 28+ National Championship With 7-3 Victory Over Dallas Mets

West Side Dawgs Beat South Dakota 12-5 With Big Seventh Inning Rally In 28+ Continental Game
By Tom Prendergast

The Atlanta Astros defeated the Dallas Mets 7-3 in the 28+ National Championship game played at Hohkam Stadium yesterday morning. Atlanta manager Marty Kelly's squad was too good offensively for Sam Kayea's Dallas Mets pitching squad. The Astros hammered out 19 hits and scored two runs in the second and the fifth inning, adding three more to the Mets 3 runs. With the victory the Atlanta Astros have won the 28+ National Championship trophy three times in the last four years.

In the 28+ Continental championship game the West Side Dawgs needed a seven run seventh inning to defeat the South Dakota Rushmores 12-5. The Dawgs jumped out to an early 4-1 lead, but South Dakota battled back to tie the score in the fifth inning. After loading the bases in the seventh the West Side Dawgs broke the game open with seven runs in a 45 minute bottom of the inning at-bat. The final score was 12-5. With the victory the West Side Dawgs win back-to-back 28+ Continental Championships.

Today the MABL, Rawlings National Division and 28+ Wood Bat playoffs begin. The team with the best record in pool play is the home team during the first two rounds. If there are any questions regarding the seeding, please see the field supervisor before the game begins or call the World Series office (602) 438-0242 to resolve the issue. All of the championship games will be played on Sunday. The championship schedule is on page 2.
