Teams Hoping For A Little Magic Today In Playoffs

38+ Central Boise Hawks pitcher Cliff Lewis was on the mound at Hohokam Stadium yesterday against the Puget Sound Gators. The Gators won the game by the score of 10-1.

Playoff Games Start — Best And Last Teams Left Undefeated Play Saturday

Participation Guidelines Don't Apply For Today's 7 Inning Games

By Tom Prendergast

The second season begins today with round one of the playoffs. This is the bonus round in which winning is the only way to keep playing. After playing six games in four days, most teams are looking for a pitcher who can give them a quality start, maybe six to eight innings. Once again this year the parity among most of the teams in the 38+ / 48+ / 58+ divisions could spell trouble for teams looking past their first round opponent.

Because the Central division playoff teams are only playing seven inning games (they have three rounds scheduled today), the player participation rule requiring every player on the roster to have at least one at bat in each game will be waived. Pre-game meetings at home plate before today's games will be extremely important for both teams.

In case of any problems today, a member of the MSBL World Series office staff will be on hand to resolve the dispute. If a WS office representative cannot be located at the field, please contact the office directly by phone at (602) 438-0242. The championship games for all divisions will be played on Saturday, November 5th.
