World Series Pool Play Over Playoff Rounds Set For Today

48+ Central Columbus Dodgers pitcher, Doug Bruce was on the mound, and picked up the win during his teams 26-5 win over the New York Mets yesterday at Tempe Diablo Stadium.

Chicago Skyliners Bill Smith Doing Better, Recovering In Mesa Hospital
Incredibly Close Divisional Races Make For Long Night At WS Headquarters
By Tom Prendergast

In a day filled with surprises, none was better than the one Chicago Skyliners pitcher Bill Smith got when his two sons arrived at the hospital yesterday morning. According to his wife Ann, he's doing much better and looking forward to getting back on the field again. Hohokam Stadium manager, Dave Dunne called the World Series office to see how Bill was doing and in the process, advised us that Mesa assistant fire chief, Gil Damiani was the guy responsible for putting defibrillator in the city parks. He's also a Chicago land native.

Because of so many competitive divisions, Thursday night at the World Series office became Friday morning. The final game of the evening didn't finished until after 12:30a. It was a 38+ Central Division game and had implications on the four playoff spots. All of the other division seemed to have one key game, which had some kind of effect on the final standings and the wildcards.

On Saturday night, the final act of the 2006 MSBL/MABL World Series takes place, the awards banquet at the Rustlers Rooste. Located behind the Pointe at South Mountain, this restaurant offers a spectacular view of the city.
