Six More MSBL Championship Games On Tap For Today!

65+ Wood Bat division Sacramento 65's batter Noel Maldonado watches this ball sail over the New England Red Sox center fielder's head for a double in yesterday's 14-9 victory.

CNBC News Crew On Hand At The Twentieth Annual World Series

National Media To Spotlight The Growth And Success Of The MSBL / MABL

By Tom Prendergast

MSBL President and founder Steve Sigler is no stranger to the media. In fact if it wasn't for their help the league might have never achieved the level of success that it is today. So when a producer for CNBC called the national office a few weeks ago wanting to do a feature story on the league, the answer was of course, yes! Steve invited a CNBC camera crew to follow him around yesterday at the Tempe Diablo Complex. As soon as we know when the story will air we will publish that information in the Daily News.

Today the 35+ / 45+ Wood Bat Championship games will be played, while the 25+ Federal and Central divisions will hold their playoffs. Just a reminder for Central division managers, if you are playing a nine inning game, all of your players (or a minimum) of 15 need to get at least one at bat. In the past when Central teams were required to play 3 - seven inning games in one day the minimum number of batters in a game was waived. Not so this year.

Last night the MSBL / MABL Welcome Western Bar-B-Que set a record for the number of guests that attended when the total was over 1000 people. Great weather, the opening of the Trade Show and a complimentary meal were apparently to tempting to pass up.
