MABL & 25+ Wood Bat Championship's Today!

The victorious (and happy) 50+ Wood Bat National Rhode Island Salty Dogs team after defeating the Sacramento Giants, 5 - 0 at Tempe Diablo Stadium yesterday morning.

O Last Team Standing Captures Championship Trophy at the MSBL WS! 35+/45+ Wood Bat Divisions Begin Pool Play Games Today

By Tom Prendergast

Finishing first in the pool play round doesn't necessarily ensure success in the playoff round. In fact since the 2002 World Series, several wildcard teams have done very well, despite having to play more games than their opponent. A great deal of planning and strategy goes into the pre-World Series build up but once the playoffs start all bets are off, so to speak. While it's important to play well during the pool play round (in order to qualify for the playoffs) it's much more important to finish strong. So a 3-3 team that won it's final three games, might have a bit of an edge when it comes to momentum.

Yesterday the Rhode Island Salty Dogs knocked off the unbeaten Sacramento Giants 5 - 0 in the 50+ WB National championship game. Despite finishing 3rd, Rhode Island got hot at just the right time and was the best team in the division when it counted the most. The Greenwood Ridge Dragons completed a perfect week with a 4-3 exciting championship game win over the Buffalo Indians to win the 50+ WB American championship title. The California Rebels came from behind to win the 50+ WB Central title game 7-6 over the So Cal Fire. The California Cardinals only won two pool play games and qualified for the playoffs with 5 points, thanks to a tie they finished in fourth place. However once in the playoffs they were red hot and on Saturday they hammered the San Antonio Rangers 19-4 to win the 60+ WB National championship game. In the 60+ WB American division the San Diego Berry's defeated the Rhode Island Salty Dogs 15-10 to win another MSBL World Series title.

Today all three MABL divisions (National / Federal / Central) and the 25+ Wood Bat National and American championship games will be played. And the 35+/45+WB divisions get underway today.
