MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on
Lou Gordon (50+ Chicago N. Cubs)

Lou recalls that first day when he attended an MSBL tryout and joined more than 20 guys whom he had either played with or against from youth ball through college. After 18 years without putting on a uniform for a game of baseball, he rediscovered his youth and his considerable abilities. Now in his 12th year as the World Series manager of the Chicago North Cubs, Lou is hoping to get over that final four hurdle and take home a championship in 2010. His countless hours of dedication to two and three teams in his local leagues have been rewarded by consensus respect from all those who play with and against him. His wife Michelle is a great supporter, as is his son Howie who enjoyed the Father and Son Division with his Dad. Lou also has an athletic daughter, Ashley (31) and a beautiful daughter, Nataly who has just celebrated her third birthday. After a 30+ year career in Chicagoland auto dealers, Lou now owns Ace Remarketing Group, and auto brokerage firm. Among his best memories of MSBL is making the playoffs in 1992, defeating Seattle on a suicide squeeze in the 13th inning!

50+ / 60+ Teams Looking Ahead To The First Round Playoff Match Ups MABL Teams Begin Play Today With 5 Games In Three Days

By Tom Prendergast

Like a chess match, several World Series managers have begun reshuffling their pitching rotations with an eye towards the playoffs on Friday. In a short series, pitching always plays a key role and that's certainly true again this year. At the halfway point in week one, 7 teams are 3-0, and feeling very confident about their playoff chances. So much in fact that they are changing their rotations to allow their top pitchers to rest and be ready for the playoffs. These managers should also keep in kind the runs allowed category, which in the past has proven to be a bit of an achilles heel for some teams that ended up 3-3.

The number of teams increases significantly today with the arrival of the MABL players. Each of these teams will play 5 games in three days. The 18+ playoffs will begin on Saturday and the championship games will be played on Sunday. Players can get up to the minute scores and standings on the new World Series website (www.msblworldseries.com).

On Friday night the MSBL / MABL will host the annual Welcome Western Bar-B-Que on the Tempe Diablo Stadium Concourse. Dinner will be served from 5:00p til 9:00p.

Remember - No Drinking or Tobacco products are allowed on the fields during the MSBL / MABL World Series.
