MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight onLou McAnanny (AZ Diamondbacks)

If you are looking for a regular at the World Series who always has a great time and enjoys sharing those special moments, look no further than Lou MaAnany. Having managed teams here for nine years, he has left his day job as an equipment mechanic and become a fixture at Tempe Diablo Stadium. With the support of his wife Elaine and two children, Lou cites so many good times here that he finds it hard to choose a favorite moment. He will, however, be quick to share the kinds of stories we all would tell. One delightful example involves a softball player his team picked up who struck out on a passed ball, and when walking back to the dugout heard his teammates screaming "Run..Run!" They almost fell over as he dropped his bat and broke into a dead run....back to the dugout. The same poor fellow went to the batting cages with automated pitches and fouled a ball that bounced up and hit him in the cup area so hard he blacked out for a few seconds. He came to in time to see balls being pitched over his head and hear everyone yelling at him to stay down! He, of course, went back to softball. With so many players here who are thankful to be rescued from that big round ball game, Lou knows of at least one who didn't make the cut. As you see Lou this week, pull him aside for a few of his wonderful stories and be prepared to be entertained.

SORRY BUT NO PETS are allowed inside the Papago, Tempe Diablo or Maryvale Sports Complexes as well as Phoenix Municipal Stadium, Tempe Diablo Stadium or Maryvale Stadium per a City of Phoenix Ordinance.
