MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on George Hughes (Classics - 70+)

A seventeen year veteran of adult baseball, George joined forces with Joe Sider to form the Ohio MSBL in 2009.

Prior to that he had been league president of the NE

Ohio 50+ Old Timers League. That organization featured no bunting, no stealing, and four outfielders. His teams were very successful in league and tournament play, but had a great desire to play "real baseball." Moving into Thurman Munson Memorial Stadium next year, George is looking forward to league expansion and to returning to Arizona with 65+ and 70+ teams. A 23 year salesman for a public relations firm, George has celebrated a 53rd anniversary with his high school sweetheart. Their family includes three daughters, a son (deceased in 1983), eight grandchildren, and four great grandchildren. Thanks to George, the MSBL is alive and well in Ohio.

New MSBL / MABL WS Website

By Tom Prendergast

This year, all of the game scores and current standings from the 2010 MSBL and MABL World Series tournament will be available on a new website; www.msblworldseries.com. The site features easy to use graphics, directions and quicker results for multiple screens that allows instant updates. Following your team has never been easier. You can also access the WS Daily News.

HardBall Magazine Reporters Sharing Coverage On Championships Tournament Teams Reach The Midway Point For Pool Play Games

By Tom Prendergast

Back in August, HardBall Magazine editor, Jeff McGaw asked me if it would be possible to publish small excerpts from the HardBall reporters recaps of the WS championship games in the Daily News. This way we could do a better job of highlighting the games and the HardBall reporters could get some ink. It's been a win-win situation and it certainly has allowed a more timely reporting of the games MVP's.

Wednesday is always a pivotal day at the MSBL World Series. In most cases, a team has a pretty good idea what they need to do on Thursday to qualify for the playoffs. This helps teams determine what kind of pitching strategy they need to implement on the final day in anticipation of playing on Friday. Today is the last day to catch the Metal Wood Bat folks as they head back home on Thursday. Just in case you missed them, they are in the big blue RV that's parked right in front of Tempe Diablo Stadium. There is plenty of 2010 MSBL / MABL World Series logo clothing still available in the novelty shop which is open from 9:00a til late at night inside the stadium.
