MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on Ed Jusino (Long Island Athletics)

Like so many MSBL players, Ed Jusino was invited to join the his local league in Long Island by a friend. In this case it was his daughter's Godfather. Lisa, now 30, shares her admiration for her dad with brothers Christopher (38) and Michael (35). Ed's wife Julie knows all about his love for baseball. His job is head baseball coach at Briarcliff College. A player in the league since 1989, Ed has been managing World Series teams for ten years. In 2009, he was inducted into the WS Hall of Fame. Among the many fine players on his teams in the past are Steve and Brian Sigler and Rich Rosenblum. His Long Island A's are always competitive and especially enjoy the Father and Son division. Ed cites his greatest thrill over the years as playing in his first Father & Son game.

35+ Mountain Division Playoffs Expanded To Include All 8 Teams

All Participation Rules In Effect Today In Central Division Playoff Games

By John Schwab

Congratulations to the Long Island Mets (35+ Central) who reached the 100 win milestone at this years World Series. Manager Rod Stephan was a player in the Long Island area back in 1990, when he decided to become involved with the Men's Senior Baseball League. He has never looked back and this year became the manager with the most wins in the history of the tournament. He, along with five of his original teammates, have attended every WS tournament played here in Arizona. In fact 15 additional players have come to play here in the sun for at least 15 years. Congratulations to the Long Island Mets and manager Stephan on this wonderful achievement.

On Thursday the WS office announced it was changing the 35+ Mountain playoffs from 5 teams to include all 8. Originally the top 3 teams were going to receive a bye, now it's the top 4. The first round games will be played at Papago Park fields at 9:30a (these will be 7 inning games) while the second round will begin at 1:00p. The semi-final game is set for 5:30p at Tempe Diablo Stadium. Since all of the other games are 9 innings today, Central participation rules are in full force for their playoff games. Simply put, that means that every team must make sure that 14 players get at least one plate appearance during each game.

The final awards banquet is Saturday night at Rustler's Rooste, located at Baseline Rd and I-10. The cash bar will open at 6:30p, while dinner is served at 7:15p.

Remember - No Drinking or Tobacco products are allowed at the facilities during the MSBL / MABL World Series.
