MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on Larry Bergren (Las Vegas Mavericks)

Do it the right way and it will be more enjoyable for everyone. That's an appropriate mantra for Larry Bergren, Las Vegas MSBL League President and manager of the Las Vegas Mavericks. With a 45+ tournament team and a Father/Son team, Larry has plenty of responsibility to insure that his fellow players have a successful experience. A computer analyst for Clark County, Nevada for 24 years, he is used to getting things right. Over the course of his 19 years as a player and 15 as a team manager, Larry has seen a lot of baseball. He has a real understanding for what players are looking for when they put on their uniforms and lace up their spikes. Larry says running a 20 team mens baseball league cannot be treated like most other businesses. You have to be sensitive to the fact that guys are applying their personal time and money for recreation in a competitive setting, and all the decisions that league leaders make must be for their safety and enjoyment. Larry and Doniece (his bride of 29years) have four children; Chaliece (26), Tyler (24), Sarah (19), and Bradley (14), their soccer player. Tyler will be accompanying his dad for the fourth year to the Father/Son week. Larry told Doniece 19 years ago he wanted to come to the World Series for a once in a lifetime experience. He had so much fun, it was all he could talk about it for a year. Her support and encouragement was special. She had a trophy made up for him recognizing his participation, and he still has it on display at home. When she realized what an incredible time he had, she encouraged him to come back, and he has every year since. Larry's most memorable moment occurred when he was pitching his first F/S year with Tyler, and watched him run down a long fly ball in left field with a spectacular catch. He says though that kind of moment has been repeated many times, the first was one he'll never forget. Larry has tried to eliminate ties in his local league, and since he understands the need for games to be (continued on page 2)

Salt River Fields Parking Specified For Diamondbacks / Rockies Fields

By Tom Prendergast

New to the MSBL / MABL World Series this year is the Salt River Fields Complex in Scottsdale. Without a doubt this complex is one of the very finest in the greater Phoenix area. If you are going there for a game later this week, teams playing on the "Rockies" fields should park in the "Home Field Parking Lot". Teams playing games on the "Diamondbacks" fields should park in the "Desert Parking Lot".

Regarding the courtesy runner, it's always the last batted out that gets to run. In the event this would take place in the first inning with no outs, the last batter in the line up would run. In the event of an A / B batter, the position not batting would be the runner. And remember that regardless of what division your team is playing in, the minimum number of batters in the lineup is always 10. An exception to this is if one team only has 9 batters, then the other team has the option to only bat 9 as well. We have made a change to the 25+ Federal Play-offs, and the revised playoff schedule can be found on page 3.

completed in a timely manner, applies the mercy rule to balance that out. The run rule also promotes respect for opponents who have little chance of catching up in the score. Always looking for the best and most appropriate way to administer his league, Larry will continue to seek ideas to make baseball enjoyable for everyone.
