MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on Brad Beattie (45+ Price Cutter Coors)

Family. No better reason to go to a ballgame. No better reason to take a vacation in Arizona. Brad Beattie has been coming to the World Series since 1993 because his dad and his brothers enjoy the same things he does. For many years his oldest brother,

Bobby was very active in bringing teams along with his father, Bob. Two years ago Bobby passed away, a great loss to all who knew him. This year the whole family got together. Brad says it's all about reconnecting. In their home of Springfield, Missouri there is no local MSBL league. They enjoy hooking up once a year for a busy week of baseball, most of the time without benefit of more than one other Sunday during ball season to play together. So the time in the Valley is as special to be together as it is to win ball games. They have won a few. Starting in 1993, they struggled their first year, but quickly added the right mix of players to be competitive. Over the years they have won championships in 25+ and 35+ (twice). The team has played under the name Kansas City Royals and Coors. They have had sponsors who are connected with Brad's grocery business, including Price Cutter, Pepsi, Coca Cola, and Coors. Several of the team are involved with local baseball in Springfield, mostly in administrative capacities, and they run a high school and college league there. Virtually the same team comes each year, depending on who is available. This year three new members accompanied the team while a couple of guys were in Puerto Rico competing in the PanAm games. Brad's wife, Lyn enjoys having their children with them. Daughters Brittany (26) and Breanna (22) make the trip along with son Beau (24) who plays baseball at Drury University in Springfield. Brad says the new Sunday start for their age group really helps the teachers on his team, but they are usually unable to attend the banquet. He loves the stadium games, especially Maryvale, and says in his 18 years almost all (continued on page 3)

Father & Son Teams Begin Pool Play Round - 25+ / 65+ Wraps Up Tonight

By Tom Prendergast

Over the last 24 hours the weather has changed dramatically in the greater metropolitan area with thunder and lightning causing an hour long delay on Tuesday night, plus a game that had to be moved to the Tempe Diablo complex from the Camelback complex yesterday. Several of the final games in each division had an impact on the playoff pairings. In some cases the teams that advanced were determined by runs allowed. A pretty dramatic ending for another very exciting tournament week. The Father and Son divisions begin play this morning with double headers the next two days.

the people he has met have been very professional and a pleasure to play with. When asked about his most special moments, Brad says winning championships was really no more important than participating every year. It's all about family, playing baseball, and being together.
