MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on
Ronny Stegall (45+ Houston A's)

Baseball is a game of redemption. Just when we get humbled by the breaks not going our way, or when we or a teammate blows a chance to win a game another game comes along and the baseball gods even things up. Just ask Ronny

Stegall, manager of the Houston A's (45+ wood Cactus) this week. He has been a regular in Arizona since 2002. When Ronny and Robert Lopez teamed up with the Houston Indians in 2003, he was the starting pitcher against the Denver Red Sox and was on the verge of a complete game with a 3 run lead. Robert made a visit to the mound with two outs in the bottom of the 9th, intent on bringing in a relief pitcher who was fresh. Ronny talked him out of it and proceeded to give up four runs, the last 3 coming on a walk-off inside the park home run. The Indians won 3 of the next 4 and needed to win its last game and get some help from other teams to make the playoffs. Against the Watsonville Angels, it was a close game. Ronny came in to pitch the last couple of innings, but the Angels (continued on page 2)

had the lead. His arm was hurting so bad he could hardly lift it, and when his team made a furious comeback to tie the score at 16-16, Ronny was scheduled to hit with the bases loaded. He wanted to report as an injury to the umpire and let Herb Goodwin bat, but Herb insisted that Ronny give it a shot. After two called strikes, Ronny hit a shot over the left fielder's head for a walk off game winning hit. They made the playoffs as two other teams who had to lose did, and his team hasn't made the playoffs since. But redemption is sweet, even when we don't understand how things like that happen. Ronny will also be playing in the Father/Son Division with two nephews and a brother-in-law this year. A former 10 year veteran of the restaurant business, Ronny now is self-employed as a municipal contractor dealing in fire hydrants. Almost all of his family still lives in the Houston area and are very close. He says he plans on returning to Phoenix every year until whenever, because baseball is just that way. It gets in your blood and you never know what the next game will bring. There is always a chance for redemption.
