MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on Dohrman Sinclair (Arizona Scorpions)

Stay healthy to play baseball.....or...play baseball to stay healthy? It doesn't matter to Dohrman Sinclair which way you look at it. He's doing both. And doing them in a very big way. With a three month continuous workout of running, weights, and yoga, he is fully engaged in the P-90X Workout program, one designed for a 30 year old man. Forget that he has already reached the age of 70. He doesn't let his body know it. Dohrman says in addition to losing over 40 lbs. on the regimen, he is healthier now than he was in college. That's an amazing accomplishment considering that in 2003 he had a sixth bypass operation. After working over 35 years in financial investments and insurance and with a grueling travel schedule that covered all 50 states, he told his company that he was moving to Arizona and wanted to reduce his territory. He did. By half the number of states. Then it began to make sense to start his own company, which he did and still runs today. A friend who played college ball with him at Ohio University found out about MSBL, they joined together, and played in the World Series in 2005 for the Coasters. He had so much fun he started his own team in the 60+, later added a 65+ and says he is probably going to (continued on page 2)

San Jose Brew Crew had to hold on late for its first title when Matt Flaherty came out of the bullpen to earn the save as the Mariners scored three in the ninth inning before the right-hander worked out of a bases loaded jam. The Brew Crew had the cushion to start the inning because Johnny Angleson had a two-run single to finish off a three-run rally in the sixth for a 9-4 lead.— Jason Skoda, HardBall

Three more members of MSBL / MABL were honored last night at the annual banquet. MSBL President and founder, Steve Sigler presented Antelope Valley League President, Wayne Munney with his National HOF award for his ongoing service to the league and his outstanding charitable contributions year after year. Next up, Steve presented Connecticut Navigators manager, Greg Schiend and long time So Cal manager, Darren Fleming with their World Series Hall of Fame plaques. MSBL World Series Umpire In Chief Dick Jolly then presented the Umpire of the Year Awards to Larry Roseborough (Texas MSBL) and George Aldrich (Southern California MSBL).

Former major league player, Bobby Grich was the guest speaker and entertained the crowd with stories from his days as a player. He was very well received and one of the more out going speakers to appear. F/S player Justin Summers gave a brief overview of the plot line for his new movie about a real life father and son story, titled "The Baseball Bond" (Our Real Life Field of Dreams). And of course, no banquet would be complete without the raffle. This year, master of ceremonies Steve Sigler had help from his granddaughter, the adorable Max Sigler, who looked very comfortable in front of the group doing the raffle. Once again the folks at the Rustler's Rooste went all out in making the night very enjoyable for all those in attendance. WS Spotlight on Dohrman Sinclair

(continued from page 1) start a 70+ team next. He currently plays in the 45+ Phoenix MSBL and says it's a welcome challenge to play against much younger competition. Since he considers baseball his only "vice" he plays year round. His WS teams have made the final four two out of the five years, but he believes keeping a good group of friends together is much more rewarding than recruiting a large, talent-laden team who simply want to win a championship. Dohrman and his wife Patti have 3 daughters and a son and cherish their family time. But squeezing in anything with a busy work schedule and all those ballgames... well, he did say it was a vice! Recently he was on one of two teams to represent the USA in a series in Cuba with senior players. He also plays senior softball (just to keep in shape). Dohrman believes if MSBL can schedule it's older age divisions on a different schedule than the Valley senior softball championships he could easily recruit 4-5 more teams. I guess there must be a real value in staying in such great shape. He needs some more competition.
