MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on
Phil Galloway (San Antonio Bombers)

History, tradition, and family. These are primary values for Phil Galloway of the San Antonio Bombers, and you can see them reflected in all that he does. The son of a military family, he traveled frequently and lived in many places but his dad fell in love with San Antonio and settled there. A good move for Phil because he met Annette, his high school sweetheart and best friend there. 30 years later with four daughters, Samantha (28), Andi (26), Erin (23), and Kristi (21), they will all be together for the 2011 edition of the World Series. The girls love to travel with the family, with mom making all the travel arrangements. Phil says he couldn't do anything without Annette, and the team gets the benefits of her energy and support. They rent a house in Scottsdale and his team operates as one big family. Now in his 4th year as a manager, Phil played in the original MSBL group in 1992 in San Antonio. He began with the World Series the next year, and only took off '03 and '04 when he had triple bypass surgery. Tradition is what keeps him motivated, and being a history buff he loves to play at Hohokam park, making note of all the greats who have played there, then sits at Don & Charlies and talks baseball with the great photos of former big league stars surrounding him. Some years Phil has come to Arizona and played all three weeks, in 35+, 45+, and 50+ divisions. Many of his players won in '07 with Bill Baldwin and the San Antonio Red Sox. In the past they have fielded a wood and aluminum 45+ team, and this year they are combining that talent into one. Also on Phil's schedule are the Father & Son division, playing with his nephew, and also another 50+ division team appearance. He has built a batting tunnel at home so the guys can get extra swings in when they come over to visit. Phil owns and manages a military surplus store, allowing him to travel to many various MSBL tournaments, and he enjoys them all. Baseball is a shared experience in this family, and its roots are the same as in the Galloway household; history, tradition, and family.

Final Day Of MSBL Playoffs Arrive For Week 3 Teams

60+ Mountain Greenwood Ridge Dragons batter Pat McGlennon gets a base hit to right field against the Austin Express yesterday morning at Phoenix Municipal Stadium.

Starting Pitching A Key, But Bullpens Will Probably Be The Difference First Round and Semi-Final Playoff Game Pairings Determined In Advance

By Tom Prendergast

Going into the tournament every team was hoping to get the opportunity to play today. For those teams that were fortunate enough to achieve that goal, pitching is now their top concern. After six games in four days, fresh arms today will be at a premium. Any able body pitcher on the roster will be available for duty today.

All of the division pairings are listed on page 4 of this newsletter. Once a team advances to the next round, the team they are going to play has been predetermined and scheduled was in advance (and posted on the website). For example, the winner of game 1 plays the winner of game 4, while the winner of game 3 plays the winner of game 2. Unless these teams are division winners, in that case the WS office would switch the matchups so that they would not face each other until the championship game.

On Saturday night the MSBL / MABL World Series will host the annual awards banquet at the Rustler's Rooste (located behind the Arizona Grand Hotel) at I-10 and Baseline. Dinner is served between 7:00pm and 7:30pm, cocktails are available at 6:30pm. The guest speaker is former major league player, Mike Gallego.

MSBL / MABL World Series Spotlight on

Mike Baker (50+ Auburn Braves)

Fraternity. Friendship. Family. There just is no better way to experience the special moments than on a baseball diamond. Ask Mike Baker about his most memorable times and the gleam in his eyes reveals the importance of playing ball with his son, Mike Jr. in the Father/Son World Series.

You can check out the Auburn Braves roster and you will see 15 out of 16 local league teammates traveling together to Arizona. Or talk with Joan (his wife of 25yrs) about how she does not have an interest in baseball like other sports, yet you might find her watching a game on TV by herself at home these days. Real baseball, wood bats, major league fields, best friends playing a kid's game as adults. And sometimes playing with their sons. Mike and Mike, Jr. were part of a Father/Son tournament in Sacramento on the championship team. They also won a ring in Tempe last year with the Muddogs. His Braves have made 4 championship game appearances, still seeking that honor. Mike began in MSBL in 1993 and has been managing since 2004, making one trip to the Fall Classic and 13 to the World Series. He gets away (continued on column 4)

from the carpet cleaning business he owns to play 50+ games a year. A lifelong Dodger fan, Mike is really looking forward to playing on the new Camelback Spring Training Facility. His favorite venues to date have been Surprise, Maryvale, and the Goodyear complexes. He told Steve Sigler recently that the locations just keep getting better and better. A strong family man, Mike followed his girls Kelly (27), and Amanda (22) through fast pitch softball, and Mike, Jr. (19) through his high school baseball career. Spending twelve years on the same team (Auburn Braves) and sharing the dugout and diamond with his son rank as his most important memories for this dedicated manager. What else would you expect when his primary values are fraternity, friendship, and family.

Allow plenty of driving time going to and from the fields. Several road construction projects are common in the greater Phoenix metro area!
