Elimination Day Arrives As Week 2 Playoffs Get Underway

Father & Son Central Kansas City Royals pitcher, Bill Stark delivers a pitch during his teams 7-1 win over the Seattle Rainiers yesterday. The Royals 4-0, ended up as the # 1 seed.

Father & Son Rules In Place To Help Make Games More Competitive

Pitching Regulations Require Both Fathers and Sons To Pitch Four Innings By Tom Prendergast

I'm fairly certain that Father & Son Commissioner, Val Lewis has spent more time going over the regulations of this division than the NASA engineers did figuring out how to go to the moon. OK, maybe that's a slight exaggeration, but not by much. However when it comes to trying to keep the games competitive (when the players on the field range from 16 to 80), well that's quite a challenge. In doing this, Val made some assumptions that most teams would use these rules in the spirit in which they were intended. And I'm quite certain that he never envisioned the use of these rules being responsible for game results to be overturned because of a technicality. But the rules are the rules, and until next year they remain in place. Every manager needs to be aware that his pitchers must comply with the minimum pitching regulations or face the ugly and unsportsmanlike consequence of the game on the field, being overturned by some bureaucratic tournament director!
