5 Way Tie For 1st Place In 45+ Cactus Division 1 - Fewest Runs Allowed Breaks Tie Playoffs Begin Today For 35+ Aluminum / 45+ Divisions And 60+ Divisions

By Tom Prendergast

Normally a 4-2 record is a pretty good bet for a team to qualify for the playoffs. So when five teams in the Cactus division ended up with the same record, it was startling. They were part of a seven team division, in which fewest runs allowed was going to determine how the teams were seeded. The So Cal Indians allowed the fewest runs (40) and they received the first round bye. The Houston Skeeters came in second, by the slimmest of margins with 41 runs allowed. Next up, the Chicago North Orioles who allowed 44, which was good for third place. The Arizona Angels allowed 51 runs and the Emerald City Thunder gave up 55 runs, both secured wildcard spots. Out of 12 playoff spots, the Cactus Division 1 had five teams advance. The tournament concludes on Saturday with the week 3 championships.
