Extremely Wet Fields AT Riverview - Goodyear And Fitch Cause Delays

45+ WB Cactus Division Playoffs Conclude With 1:00am Games at Tempe Fields

By Tom Prendergast

The Major League fields that we use for our tournaments are terrific in many ways. Too bad for us that shedding water isn't one of those qualities. Yesterday was a long day for almost every player, umpire and managers involved as delays at Fitch, Riverview, Goodyear and Tempe almost brought the tournament to a standstill. Somewhat surprisingly Maryvale and Papago started on time and so did most of the Tempe fields. Heavy rains the day before were to blame and poor drainage hampered ground crew efforts to get the field playable in a timely manner. At Goodyear, 45+ and 60+ playoff games were reduced to 5 innings or two hours and all of the games at Fitch and Hohokam were 7 innings. Of all the playoffs yesterday, the 45+ Cactus was the most challenging. Faced with the prospects of completing 3 pool play games before the playoff round could start, these playoff games didn't start until 4:00p at the Tempe complex and wrapped up with two 1:00am games. Nobody involved was happy with this scenario, but weather in Phoenix is very unforgiving when it comes to our tournament games. This morning we have two pool play games to complete (8:00am start) at Tempe 5 and 6. Both these games have about 3 inning left to go and once they have been concluded the 25+ playoffs will get underway. 45+ and 60+ championship games get played today.
