50+ Championships Set For Today, 40+ / 70+ Playoffs Get Underway

During the Playoffs and Championship Games - Teams Only Have to Bat 10!

By Tom Prendergast

After all of the close games yesterday and walk off wins, today's game are going to be hard pressed to match that kind of excitement. The 50+ divisions will be decided today with their four championship games, while the 70+ National championship game will also be played. The very competitive, 40+ divisions completed pool play games yesterday and will begin the playoff round with morning games, followed by the semi-finals in the afternoon. And the 70+ divisions will start their playoffs at the newly remodeled, Maryvale Complex.

Before the tournament began, the WS office handed out a Rule Highlights information sheet with important notes for this year event. One of these bullet points included a reminder for all Central, Cactus and Desert division teams, requiring a minimum plate appearance for at least 14 dressed players in the round robin. In the same paragraph it stated that teams will have the option of batting only 10 batters for all playoff rounds and will not need to get 14 players at least one plate appearance, except for 50+, 55+, 60+, 65+ and 70+ divisions. Well needless to say this was confusing and wrong. Teams do not have to bat a minimum of 14 players in the playoffs and championship games. One of the best ways to avoid any confusion when it comes to the batting order, is to discuss it during the pregame meeting at home plate with the umpires. This way if any questions come up a quick call to the WS office will resolve it.

Congratulations to the 25+ Central Division, Denver Kokopelli's team, who won their 300 MSBL game yesterday with an exciting 6-5 win over the Seattle Ravens. The team started participating in MSBL National and regional tournaments in 2007. Well done!

Puget Sound MSBL Player
Maggie Gallagher

By Steve LaMontia,
Director of Communications

Maggie Gallagher is former University of Washington Softball player. She's playing with 25+ Washington Rangers in the MSBL World Series this week.

Carolina Cobras skipper, Bobby Lovett (right) presents the MVP Jerry Russell with the trophy.

She grew up playing baseball most of her life until the eighth grade. She switched over to softball as men got bigger, became sexist, and couldn't handle a girl being better than them. She worked hard and played on the top team in Washington and landed a collegiate scholarship to the University of Washington, committing in her junior year of high school. She was honored her Senior year (hitting .700+ with 17 homeruns) as the Gatorade Player of the Year for Washington State, Max-Preps All American and was a three-time member of the Seattle Times All Star Area team. While at Washington she made two appearances at the Women's College World Series, with being a National Runner-Up in 2018. Maggie joined the Puget Sound Senior Baseball League (PSSBL) as the first female to General Manage and play in the highest division with former minor leaguers and collegiate athletes. "During my time in the PSSBL, I am working for Driveline Baseball in their Supply Chain and Logistics, while training for the USA Women's Baseball team.
