Tom Lange Inducted Into the MSBL WS Hall of Fame!

2024 MSBL WS Hall of Fame Inductee: Tom Lange, Puget Sound Baseball League

By Steve LaMontia, Director of Communications

Tom Lange is a resident of the great Northwest, plays for the Puget Sound Senior Baseball League, and lives with his beloved wife Kate on Camano Island, Washington. The 70-year-old baseball veteran has been a part of the Puget Sound league since 2011 and started making the trek to Arizona and the MSBL World Series in 2016. "I started playing in the World Series in 2016 with the 65+ Seattle Mariners to help with pitching and catching," explained Tom. "In 2017 I continued to play for the 65+ Seattle Mariners and also on a 60+ Donny De Cordova team along with six players from the PSSBL."

Because of Tom's vast experience in Arizona, MSBL Founder and President Steve Sigler has recognized and informed Tom that he has been inducted into the 2024 class of the MSBL World Series Hall of Fame. "I am absolutely gob-smacked and honored," said the PSSBL veteran. "I could not have competed in the World Series without the field managers and invited players putting their trust in me by accepting an invitation to play on my teams from the Seattle area. All of my players have a great time, and they all return to play another year, which is a credit to Steve's leadership and management of the World Series."

Tom continues to play for the Mavericks in the 65-over Adirondack division of the Puget Sound league located in and around Seattle. He is also quite versatile, as he is a pitcher, first baseman, outfielder, and still dons the catcher's equipment. But the big thrills come from playing alongside his son Stewart both in the league and in the World Series. "Stewart plays in the league for the 25-over Seattle Rockies and we will be playing together in the Father/Son division of the World Series with the OC Scorpions. One of the biggest thrills of my baseball career was being the closing pitcher and (getting the save), (continued on page 2) while pitching to Stewart in the Father/Son in Arizona. Tom's baseball years may be somewhat limited but his athletic ability ranks up there with anyone.

"The last time I played baseball, until I found the Puget Sound MSBL league, was in Little League, where I also coached. When Stewart started playing high school baseball is when I started playing in the PSSBL. My high school years were primarily spent trying to play Division 1 football, while doing track in the spring. I ended up playing football for the Air Force Academy from 1973 until 1975."

Wins on the field are important, yes, but only a few teams can be champions. All teams can play for the fun of turning a double play, hitting a sac fly, getting the strikeout, or holding on to win as the home team in the top of the ninth inning. That, truly, is my biggest highlight anytime I step on the field to play baseball."

My final question to Tom was if there were any individuals he would like to thank in helping his baseball career include induction into the MSBL World Series Hall of Fame. There are many, and I am certain I'll leave some out, and to those I apologize. First off, my family: wife Kate for her support, and son Stewart for not giving up helping me to develop a curve ball; brothers Roger, Joe, and Bruce for hours of catch, pickle, and pick-up baseball at the school yard. The PSSBL Board, led by president Tom Evans Krause, for starting a 65+ daytime division this year. Bob Sorensen for drafting me to the Generals in 2011; Kevin Mayo, for handing off 65+ Seattle Mariners World Series team; Donny de Cordova inviting six of us from the PSSBL to one of his teams; Stuart Chernis, Steve Tanaka, and Hal Abbott for being field managers at the World Series. Ben Low from the PSSBL setting up spring practices and always having a positive comment; Bob Pessemier for bringing me on the Mavericks to pitch; Steve Sigler for always answering my questions, and Steve and the MSBL team for always putting on the absolutely best tournament ever.
